I: Conjuration of the Dead God

May OBLIVION open
my eyes that I may see . . .

May OBLIVION open
my ears that I may hear . . .

May OBLIVION open
my nose that I may sense his approach.

May OBLIVION open
my mouth that my voice will be heard to the far reaches of the earth . . .

May OBLIVION
strengthen my right hand that I shall be strong, to keep the dead . . .
. . . under my POWER, under my very POWER.

Ethen!
I conjure THEE, O
ancestor of the gods!

I summon THEE,
creature of Darkness,
by the works of
DARKNESS!

I summon THEE,
creature of Hatred, by the words of
HATRED!

I summon THEE,
creature of PAIN, by
the words of PAIN!
I summon and call THEE forth, from
thy abode in darkness!

By the four square
pillars of earth that support the sky,

I evoke THEE from thy resting-place in the bowels of the VOID!

I summon THEE and thine ears to hear the word that is never spoken . . .
The word that binds
and commands is my word!
